

I work with clients who want websites that are attractive, informative and usable. Websites that attract visitors who become customers.

Sarah Morgenstein

web & interactive design

Experience

Part Time Adjunct Professor

1/2009–present Cuyahoga Community College

Teaching Interactive Media course Web Publishing I, Web Publishing 2 and Intro to Dreamweaver.

Manage client experience and student project work to complete website for a real client.

Classes cover standards compliant HTML and CSS in addition to the principles of web design, usability concepts and typical web site development project life cycle.

Web Design Intern

1/2009–8/2009 BSKLive

Redesigned portions of the web application to meet usability standards and user needs.

Developed a custom Wordpress template for redesign of company web site.

Created motion graphic for web site to demonstrate how product works.

User Experience Design Intern

6/2008–8/2008 Westfield Insurance

Conducted interviews with target software users.

Assisted in performing and analyzing usability testing sessions using Morae software.

Senior Software Developer – Web

12/2006–1/2007 Progressive Insurance

Lead developer on complex projects involving multiple software development teams and company wide projects.

Responsible for design and development of enhancements to auto insurance quoting portion of progressive.com web site.

Senior Software Developer – Client/Server

1/2001–12/2006 Progressive Insurance

Led team of developers for multi-year project. Established code and review standards for team.

Subject matter expert in several areas of application, including user interface and external applications.

Mentored new software developers.

Associate Software Developer – Mainframe

8/1999–1/2001 Progressive Insurance

Responsible for maintenance and development of print applications (billing, policy documents, etc).

Mentored new software developers.

Education

Cuyahoga Community College

Parma, OH–2010

Associate's in Interactive Media

Cleveland State University

Cleveland, OH–2001

Bachelor's in Computer Science